Since America's inception artists have sought to capture the heart and soul of its citizens with imagery of the nation's people, cultures, wildlife and natural landscape. Some of the most profound and important events in the development of the United States, including its independence and realization of Manifest Destiny, have been documented and immortalized by artists. In celebration of the 4th of July, and the continued patriotism of American artists, the Thomas Nygard Gallery will present an etching exhibition titled "Visions of the American West". The exhibition will include etchings and prints by some of America's most important early western artists, including Henry Balink, Edward Borein, Nicolai Fechin, William Gollings, Herman Hansen, Will James, William Robinson Leigh, Carl Rungius, and Joseph Henry Sharp. "Visions of the American West" will run from June 28th until July 23rd. ★ ★ ★
